Who's coming to town?

This year, besides seeing all the great films TIFF has to offer, you'll be able to stargaze at some of Hollywood's biggest stars who are coming to town to support their upcoming movies.

Nicole Kidman stars in The Rabbit Hole alongside Aaron Eckhart as a husband and wife who fight to save their marriage in the life that begins again after tragedy.

Javier Bardem, who just married Penélope Cruz, plays a father of two who's sensing the danger of death in the Spanish film, Biutiful, in which he struggles with a tainted reality and a fate that works against him in order to forgive, for love, and forever.

Naomi Watts will no doubt come to support You Will Meet a Tall Dark Stranger, Woody Allen's latest comic ensemble piece, which follows a group of Londoners struggling with the perils of life.

Hilary Swank's movie Conviction will garner a lot of attention as the Oscar-winning actress stars in this true story of a sister's unwavering devotion to her brother who is arrested for murder and sentenced to life in 1983.

Canadian star Scott Speedman is a staple during the Toronto Film Fest. This year, he will be promoting his film Barney's Version, which stars Paul Giamatti and Rachel LaFevre.

Coming back again this year, Natalie Portman will be promoting her new thriller Black Swan. Portman stars as a dancer in the New York City Ballet who finds herself locked in a web of competitive intrigue with a new rival at the company.

Jon Hamm leaves his '60s Mad Men character to promote his new movie, The Town, a dramatic thriller about robbers and cops, friendship and betrayal, love and hope, and escaping a past that has no future. The film also stars Ben Affleck, who is also the director.

Colin Firth returns to the film fest as royalty. In The King's Speech he plays King George VI, the father of the current Queen, Elizabeth II.

Keira Knightley and Carey Mulligan star in Never Let Me Go as childhood friends whose friendship is put to the test when they confront deep feelings of love, jealousy and betrayal that threaten to pull them apart.

Ryan Gosling and Michelle Williams caused buzz in Cannes while promoting Blue Valentine, the story of a couple who try and save their failing marriage.

Money Talks

The song couldn't be more perfect. In the trailer for Wall Street: Money Never Sleeps, the Rolling Stones' classic "Sympathy For The Devil" plays in the background. That song casts Mick Jagger as the Devil, trying to summon up some sympathy for himself.

And so it goes with the infamous Gordon Gekko, played once again by Michael Douglas. Now, 23 years later, Gekko has paid his dues to society (in prison) and is a chastened (and free) man, but in the eyes of many he's still a criminal, still the devil. So when Gekko predicts the 2008 financial crisis, his reputation trumps his credibility. Few listen and his warnings go unheeded.

As the meltdown takes down Wall Street and much of the global economy with it, another drama swirls around Gekko. A young man named Jacob Moore (Shia LaBeouf) informs Gekko that he's about to marry his estranged daughter, Winnie (Carey Mulligan). The prospect of patching up his strained relationship with Winnie entices Gekko to enter into a deal with Jacob—a deal complete with danger, reward and corruption.

Wall Street: Money Never Sleeps boasts an amazing cast, including Douglas (who won his only acting Oscar playing Gordon Gekko in 1987), Mulligan (An Education), LaBeouf (Transformers), as well as Oscar winner Susan Sarandon, Frank Langella

Charging Made Simple™

Also returning is producer/director Oliver Stone, whose passionate storytelling radiates off the screen in every frame. For several months when this movie was in development, Stone and Douglas were not scheduled to participate, but soon after, Stone announced his return. He recently told Variety that Gordon Gekko's story is worth revisiting. "He's a quintessential American story, and seeing how he manages to survive in this new shark tank 22 years later is a fascinating and challenging proposition. So much has changed. Not just Gordon Gekko—the world too." But, as he said to the Toronto Star, the real catalyst for his revisiting Wall Street was the 2008 financial meltdown. "It was a major heart attack...and it puts the whole world in a new perspective. It's time to come back and get Gordon Gekko."

As for Douglas, he was firm in his commitment to return to Wall Street—but only if the script was good, and if Oliver Stone returned. Once Stone approved the script, so did Douglas. But the 65-year-old actor said he was also excited to revisit the Gekko character, one that had surprisingly become a hero to many. "He's an insider trader, a guy who destroyed companies—a very, very well-written villain, and people are attracted to villains. We just never anticipated that...all these people in business school would be ranting and raving that this was the person they wanted to be," he explained to the Toronto Star. Douglas admits he had doubts about the casting of Shia LaBeouf in the central role of Jacob. "We weren't sure he had the chops," he told Access Hollywood, "and he knocked it out of the park. I'm so proud of him; he just kicked butt."

LaBeouf not only impressed Douglas: he impressed his co-star, Carey Mulligan. Shortly after being introduced to each other by Oliver Stone, the two began dating and were a hot item on the red carpets of Cannes this spring. "You could see their chemistry right away, and it was pretty powerful," Stone told People magazine. "They were completely professional on the set, but there was no mistaking what was happening."

In Hollywood, as in business, it's all about the money—and that means that sequels are often made for all the wrong reasons. Yet, when you think about it, the original Wall Street virtually screams for a follow-up. After all, it was the actions of men like Gordon Gekko and the "greed is good" mentality that triggered the 2008 financial meltdown in the first place. And you know that the world has been turned on its head when, 22 years later, Gordon Gekko is the new voice of reason.

LET ME IN

October 1 Horror

Kodi Smit-McPhee, Chloë Moretz, Richard Jenkins

A lonely boy's wish for a friend seems to come true when a girl his age moves in next door. But her arrival coincides with a series of gruesome deaths and attacks. Though he realizes she's a vampire, his friendship with her is stronger than his fear.

THE SOCIAL NETWORK

October 1 Drama

Jesse Eisenberg, Justin Timberlake, Andrew Garfield, Rashida Jones, Max Minghella, Rooney Mara, Brenda Song

On a fall night in 2003, Harvard undergrad and computer programming genius Mark Zuckerberg sits down at his computer and heatedly begins working on a new idea. In a fury of blogging and programming, what begins in his dorm room soon becomes a global social network and a revolution in communication. A mere six years and 500 million friends later, Mark Zuckerberg is the youngest billionaire in history.

YOU WILL MEET A TALL DARK STRANGER

October 1 Comedy

Antonio Banderas, Josh Brolin, Anthony Hopkins, Gemma Jones, Freida Pinto, Lucy Punch, Naomi Watts

The film follows a pair of married couples, Alfie (Hopkins) and Helena (Jones), and their daughter Sally (Watts) and husband Roy (Brolin), as their passions, ambitions, and anxieties lead them into trouble and out of their minds. Despite these characters' attempts to dodge their problems with pipe dreams and impracticable plans, their efforts lead only to heartache, irrationality, and perilous hot water.

Naomi Watts and Josh Brolin get romantic in Woody Allen's You Will Meet a Tall Dark Stranger

SECRETARIAT

October 8 Drama

Diane Lane, John Malkovich

Housewife and mother Penny Chenery (Lane) agrees to take over her ailing father's Virginia-based Meadow Stables, despite her lack of horse-racing knowledge. Against all odds, Chenery—with the help of veteran trainer Lucien Laurin (Malkovich)—manages to navigate the male-dominated business, ultimately fostering the first Triple Crown winner in 25 years and what may be the greatest racehorse of all time.

Heigl and Duhamel become instant parents in Life As We Know It

LIFE AS WE KNOW IT

October 8 Comedy

Katherine Heigl, Josh Duhamel, Josh Lucas, Christine Hendricks, Jean Smart

Holly Berenson (Heigl) is an up-and-coming caterer and Eric Messer (Duhamel) is a promising network sports director. After a disastrous first date, the only thing they have in common is their dislike for each other and their love for their goddaughter, Sophie. But when they suddenly become all Sophie has in the world, Holly and Messer are forced to put their differences aside. Juggling career ambitions and competing social calendars, they'll have to find some common ground while living under one roof.

THE GIRL WHO KICKED THE HORNET'S NEST

October 15 Thriller Alliance

Michael Nyqvist, Noomi Rapace, Lena Endre, Annika Hallin

While Lisbeth (Rapace) is recovering in hospital, Mikael (Nyqvist) continues his investigation into who sought to undermine Lisbeth Salander and for what purpose.

HEREAFTER

October 22 Thriller

Matt Damon

Three people are touched by death in different ways. George (Damon) is a blue-collar American who has a special connection to the afterlife. On the other side of the world, a French journalist has a near-death experience that shakes her reality. And when Marcus, a London schoolboy, loses the person closest to him, he desperately needs answers. Each on a path in search of the truth, their lives will intersect, forever changed by what they believe might—or must—exist in the hereafter.

PARANORMAL ACTIVITY 2

AROUND TOWN

The gorgeous cast of Pretty Little Liars, Troian Bellisario, Ashley Benson, Lucy Hale and Shay Mitchell, got together at a book signing—based on the series—which follows the lives of four girls, Spencer, Hanna, Aria, and Emily, whose clique falls apart after the disappearance of their leader, Alison.

Xavier Samuel has a lot to be thankful for. Not only is his career on the rise, his coolness factor has shot up since he starred as Riley in The Twilight Saga: Eclipse. Watch for this hottie in Anonymous next year or in his recently released thriller, The Loved Ones.

The cast of The Vampire Diaries, Ian Somerhalder, Nina Dobrev and Paul Wesley, recently got together to promote the upcoming season premiere of the hit show, which airs September 9. The cast and producers of the show gave details on Season 2, including the return of Katherine, Jeremy's fate and Tyler Lockwood's big, howling secret!

Miley Cyrus and her boyfriend, actor Liam Hemsworth, took the afternoon to have sushi in L.A. Hemsworth is set to star next as a young commander who joins forces with Sinbad and Aladdin in Arabian Nights, while Cyrus is currently filming LOL: Laughing Out Loud, a comedy about how a group of friends deal with peer pressure in a world connected by YouTube, iTunes and Facebook.

After a long day of filming Water for Elephants with Reese Witherspoon, Robert Pattinson took girlfriend Kristen Stewart out to see one of his very best friends from London, musician Sam Bradley, perform live at Hotel Café in Hollywood.

Zac Efron and Vanessa Hudgens recently attended Efron's premiere for Charlie St. Cloud together. The pair is still going strong since meeting while filming High School Musical and is still Hollywood's cutest couple!

Blake Lively took in a movie screening recently in New York. She recently wrapped up filming alongside hottie Ryan Reynolds for The Green Lantern. Now, Lively is out of superhero mode and back onto the set of Gossip Girl for more drama.

Brody Jenner and rocker Avril Lavigne are still a couple! The pair is said to have gotten each other's names tattooed on their bodies. Brody has her name inked on the inside of his left arm, while Avril proudly got her "Brody" tattoo below her right breast on her rib cage.

Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, Part One

It's the beginning of the end for Harry Potter and its stars

It is supposed to be Harry, Ron and Hermione's seventh and final year at Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry, but instead of returning to school on the Hogwarts Express with their fellow classmates, they are embarking on a mission entrusted to Harry by the late Headmaster, Albus Dumbledore. As Voldemort rapidly overruns the wizarding world with his deranged followers, the Death Eaters, the three young wizards come face to face with a seemingly impossible task: finding and destroying Voldemort's horcruxes, the pieces of his soul that he has concealed in an attempt to make himself immortal.

Frustrated with this apparently unachievable mission, Harry gets distracted when he discovers the existence of The Deathly Hallows: three objects that, if combined, will make the possessor a master of death. He becomes convinced that he must obtain them to defeat the Dark Lord, but when he realizes that the torture, murder and devastation in his world will continue if he doesn't act fast, he becomes determined to complete the task that Dumbledore assigned him.

"Hallows Part One will feel very different from Half-Blood Prince. It's just edgier. It's a little rawer. It's more contemporary. It feels more modern," director David Yates told Vanity Fair. There is also the matter of "the split" (where they will divide the script to separate the story into two movies). "It's tricky to shoot as two separate films, so we've been trying to think of it as one and just shoot as much as possible, and once they've edited it down, it will feel like there's a natural cut somewhere in the middle," Tom Felton (Draco Malfoy) told MTV.

In 2001, when the first book in J.K. Rowling's massively successful Harry Potter series was adapted to the big screen, it instantly catapulted the young Daniel Radcliffe, Rupert Grint and Emma Watson to stardom. Twelve years later and now household names, the three stars have wrapped filming for Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, Parts 1 and 2, and said an emotional goodbye to the rest of the cast. "Everyone was really devastated. It was really, really sad," Daniel Radcliffe told the Associated Press.

After they've dedicated their young lives to portraying the famous trio, the natural question is, what's next? Like her alter ego, Emma Watson is focusing on school. In a 2009 interview with Paste magazine, Watson confirmed that she would be studying English literature at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island. "I want to forget about hair and makeup. Sometimes on a publicity tour I can't remember what time it is, what country I'm in," she told U.K. paper The Times. She has also collaborated with the socially responsible clothing company Free People to create a line of fair trade and organic clothing called Love from Emma.

Rupert Grint's focus remains on acting. He's playing the role of Tony in Wild Target, alongside Bill Nighy and Emily Blunt, which will be released in October 2010. He's also set to star in Eddie the Eagle, which chronicles the life of Britain's first Olympic ski jumper. And, while it's hard to imagine Daniel Radcliffe as any other than the famous boy wizard, he is continuing his acting and Broadway career. After making his very naked debut in Equus in 2008, he's now set to star on stage in How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying. He'll also star in the film adaptation of Susan Hill's bestselling horror novel, The Woman in Black, as well as a remake of the war drama All Quiet on the Western Front. In The Journey is the Destination, he'll portray real-life photojournalist Dan Eldon.

So is this it for Harry Potter? At least for a decade. The Washington Post reported that author J.K. Rowling says she'll consider returning to the series "maybe 10 years from now." We can only hope that if she does, a movie version will follow.

iPhone is a trademark of Apple Inc., registered in the U.S. and other countries.

Best known for his upbeat pop-rock tunes, JUSTIN TIMBERLAKE also earned some acting credibility with his role in Alpha Dog in 2006. He's back on the big screen in the upcoming movie, The Social Network, which follows the real-life story of computer programming genius Mark Zuckerberg who created Facebook. In the movie, Justin plays Sean Parker who became the President of Facebook.

Now, with a career in both music and film, it's amazing he manages to fit in as many relationships as he does. As a Mouseketeer, his young love was Britney Spears. The two teens had a tumultuous split when Britney allegedly cheated with a backup dancer (he wasn't kidding when he sang Cry Me a River). Now, Jessica Biel's got him "Love Stoned." And in between, he brought enough "Sexy Back" to woo several lovely ladies.

1 Keeping in killer shape is JESSICA BIEL's MO, and the former N'Sync star is the lucky guy that gets to date her. With a recent role in The A-Team and an upcoming lead part alongside Jake Gyllenhaal in Nailed, her acting career shows no signs of slowing down, either. An item since his split with Cameron Diaz in 2007 (and her split with baseball player Derek Jeter), Justin and Jessica have been a couple for three years.

2 CAMERON DIAZ reportedly had a rocky split with her Shrek co-star. Rumors of infidelity (on Justin's side) and instability (on Cameron's) abound. But Justin might have trouble resisting the tall blonde beauty on the set of the upcoming Bad Teacher, in which she plays his love interest. Unfortunately for him, Cameron's current flame, baseball star Alex Rodriguez, is the only man on her mind. Though she's dated bad boys Jared Leto and Edward Norton in the past, she's now happy to be in a less dramatic relationship.

3 SCARLETT JOHANSSON's sultry appearance in Justin's What Goes Around Comes Around music video had everyone talking. And when Scarlett was spotted with the star at the Alpha Dog premiere after-party just one week after his split with Cameron, it was obvious he was into her. But after dating rocker Jared Leto, she's now happily married to Canadian actor Ryan Reynolds and is rumored to be a favorite for the lead role in Gravity, alongside Robert Downey Jr.

4 Before Step Up kick-started JENNA DEWAN's acting career, she was a backup dancer on JT's tours. After Britney broke his heart, she was there to comfort him, and they began dating. It was a brief relationship, which allegedly lost her the job when Justin couldn't handle having his former flame around as a distraction on stage. Now married to the buff Channing Tatum, and working her way up in Hollywood with small roles, Jenna is completely over JT, with whom she was once starstruck.

5 With filming just starting on rom-com Friends With Benefits, the onset flirting between the petite MILA KUNIS and the Sexy Back singer is only just beginning. Considering the overlap in his relationships with Diaz and Johansson, it wouldn't come as a surprise if he fell for the beautiful Mila before his relationship with Biel came to a close. But Mila's been in a committed relationship with actor Macaulay Culkin since 2002, so she may not be as likely to stray—even if she's happy to flirt.

6 BRITNEY SPEARS needs no introduction. We all know the tale of boy-meets-girl, boy loses girl then makes revenge music video ("Cry Me A River"), girl gets married (twice), has two kids, shaves her head and causes a media storm with her antics. What looked like an ideal relationship between two teen stars ended badly after two years of dating. But even after a bitter end, Justin still reached out to Britney when she had her breakdown. Since her divorce from aspiring rapper Kevin Federline, Britney's been linked to everyone from D-list actors to paparazzi.

7 With ties to some of Hollywood's hottest leading ladies, not only does EDWARD NORTON get Oscars, he's also lucky in love. Admittedly he's also had rocky relationships (he dated Hole's lead singer, Courtney Love—enough said). But he quickly bounced back with Cameron Diaz, whom he dated for a year. He also dated Drew Barrymore after meeting her on the set of Everyone Says I Love You, and Jessica Biel became his real-life love after playing his onscreen interest in The Illusionist.

8 With mountains of eyeliner, scruffy hair and a five-o'clock shadow, JARED LETO came by his bad-boy persona honestly. Among the ladies who have fallen for the rebellious rocker are Scarlett Johansson and Cameron Diaz, as well as Paris Hilton, who hooked up with him at Hyde Lounge in Utah during the 2008 Sundance Film Festival. Now, he's focusing on his music career with his band 30 Seconds to Mars, and appears to be dedicated to that lifestyle (read: he's only interested in hookups).

9 Known for his numerous relationships and his way with ladies, COLIN FARRELL doesn't discriminate. He's had brief flings with both Lindsay Lohan and Britney Spears, two of Hollywood's biggest party girls. He's also been linked to the lovely Ali Larter, and numerous aspiring actresses including Angelina Jolie. He's currently with actress Alicja Bachleda, whom he met on the set of Ondine and with whom he has a son.

10 After her tumultuous teens, DREW BARRYMORE is now an acclaimed star and recently made her directorial debut with Whip It. But a long and successful career in the spotlight also means relationships are around for everyone to see. With a list of exes that rivals Colin Farrell's, Drew may have dated her fair share of bad boys, but her on-again-off-again relationship with sweetie Justin Long is currently on again, due to the time they spent together while filming Going the Distance.

11 Yet another tragic tale of a teen star turned party girl, it's never a surprise when LINDSAY LOHAN is arrested, in jail, or snapped hooking up with someone new. Known for partying hard and dating even harder, Lohan has been linked to numerous men (and women), including Colin Farrell, Doug Reinhart and James Franco.

12 BRODY JENNER never seems to stay in relationships for long. He's a player at heart, and Chooses to date his close friends like Lauren Conrad, Kristin Cavallari and Paris Hilton. However, it appears he's fallen hard for Canadian cutie Avril Lavigne—they've been seen vacationing together, out for dinner and drinks and even got tattoos of each other's names on their bodies.

13 DOUG REINHART became known for his appearance on the MTV show The Hills as Lauren Connor's brief boyfriend. He also dated Amanda Bynes and Lindsay Lohan before his recent relationship with heiress Paris Hilton. The couple split when Paris realized that he was using her to get noticed by the media. To get revenge, she reportedly embarrassed him when they were both at the same nightclub by getting the DJ to announce that Paris wanted him to leave.

14 Curvy KIM KARDASHIAN, best known for her role in Keeping up with the Kardashians, has made a name for herself in the media. After the leak of a sex tape she made with ex-boyfriend Ray J, Kardashian became a well-known name. She also dated singer Nick Cannon before he married Mariah Carey. She's currently dating Dallas Cowboy Miles Austin, who's completely smitten with the sultry star.

15 SIENNA MILLER's on-again-off-again relationship with Jude Law has been ongoing since 2004, when they met on the set of Alfie. Soon after, they got engaged and continued their whirlwind romance. But when Jude's nanny went public with the news that she had an affair with him, their relationship ended abruptly. Sienna then found comfort with her Camille co-star, the adorable James Franco, followed by brief encounters with Rhys Ifans and Balthazar Getty. She rekindled her romance with Jude in 2009, while they were both working on Broadway plays, and they are now engaged for the second time.

MUSIC NEWS

HAMMER'S MUSIC BLOG

I think music is going into a new and exciting direction. Right now we are witnessing an amazing music evolution! The bridge between genres is closing. We are seeing urban artists working with dance artists to create a new sound for a new generation. Dance producers like David Guetta are working with Akon and Kelly

Rowland, Pitbull is sampling classic house/dance songs—artists are seamlessly joining different styles of music into an amazing new product. Slowly, we will see more and more music “fusion,” which will eventually break down music barriers.

BEYONCÉ KNOWLES, Virgo, born September 4, 1981, Houston, Texas
Virgos are often ultra-sexy yet uncomfortable in the role. When she created the Sacha Fierce alter ego, Beyoncé said it allowed her to be more sensual, outspoken and aggressive. Her Virgo modesty was evident when she was passed over for an Oscar nod for Dreamgirls (2006) while co-star Jennifer Hudson took one home. “Because I’m a star, they just automatically assume that I’m not humble enough to sit down and take a back seat, which I am,” she said at a press event. As hardworking as any Virgo, Beyoncé took a long break in 2010. This 16-time Grammy winner is due for a creative burst next year, which will likely include a major film project.

STAR STRUCK

What the stars have planned for you

ARIES (March 21 – April 20)

Pick up your cues! Like the hint from a superior about moving up the ladder. Show you’re ready for a change in status, but try to delay signing until after the 12th. Late in the month looks best to play out a romantic scene or two. You can also add to your bank balance through a wise investment.

TAURUS (April 21 – May 21)

Summer’s over, but you hit the doldrums as far as work is concerned. Don’t worry; it clears by mid-month. In the meantime, it’s one of the most romantic and social months of the year for you. The more you mingle, the greater your chances of making strategic contacts or meeting a potential new co-star.

GEMINI (May 22 – June 21)

The month gets off to a slow start, thanks to retrograde Mercury. Tie up loose ends and make amends until the 12th, when the pace quickens. You’re off on a social whirl, as well as dealing with a big career opening and possibly a new romance. Good thing you’re so good at multi-tasking!

CANCER (June 22 – July 22)

You gladly take charge of Labor Day barbecue plans. And outfitting kids (yours or a friend’s) for school might inspire you to sign up for a course yourself. You can find great bargains for yourself as well after the 12th. Get out and play the glad-handing game. You just might schmooze your way into a new job.

LEO (July 23 – August 23)

You’re undecided about your future, which has you going in circles. Relax and review your options until mid-month. And watch your ad-libs around higher-ups. A lucky planetary merger could be good for your bank account. It also ups your charisma, and chances for meeting a new romantic lead.

VIRGO (August 24 – September 23)

Tie up loose ends from summer projects through the 12th. After that, use the new moon to make a battle plan and land that promotion. If you’re free, a few strategically aimed come-hither looks won’t go unnoticed. If attached, prospects are promising for taking the next step on the road to total commitment.

LIBRA (September 24 – October 23)

All’s quiet on the love front as summer wanes. But by mid-month you’re ready to shine in a new role at work that could lead to a promotion. Home improvement may be a sore spot, but a solution will appear that eases your anxiety, and your bank balance. Venus helps you identify new streams of income.

SCORPIO (October 24 – November 22)

Need a new agent? Until mid-month you’re surrounded at work by bit players. But your star is rising, so be patient and avoid power plays. Your charisma is off the charts, which helps you attract all sort of new people into your circle. As well, loved ones play supporting roles with gusto.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 – December 21)

Time for a fresh start? If you seem stuck, try tuning into the grapevine. You could learn something useful. After mid-month, make sure to go where you can see and be seen by those with clout. You’ll likely hold more than one open house to accommodate all the friends who get in touch.

CAPRICORN (December 22 – January 20)

Always organized, you may find a few unexpected Labor Day weekend visitors fail to throw you. It’s the start of an active period for your social life. Until mid-month, it’s almost impossible to get your message across at work. Be prepared to repeat yourself. After that, though, you’re all business.

AQUARIUS (January 21 – February 18)

It’s lights, camera—and plenty of action on the career front. Don’t jump on the first offer you receive. Wait until after mid-month to put anything in writing. It’s also an optimum time for work-related socializing and a possible office romance. A raise or bonus is likely in the offing as well.

PISCES (February 19 – March 20)

Labor Day weekend just might bring fireworks—as in a fire under a loved one’s financial situation. But it will be offset by a mostly lucky period. With little effort on your part, you’ll manage to be in the right place at the right time—including when a new romantic co-star enters the scene, if you’re eligible.
